

From: PNW Grand Tour <pnwgrandtour@gmail.com>
Subject: PNWGT Update (August 21st, 2022)

We had 2 more riders get their first visit of the year and 2 riders reached finisher status. It was a slow week overall. Hopefully some of you have some time off coming up and can get out for a few more stops!

New finishers include Ricky Thomas (80) and Jim Ketelsen (48). Jim has a very distinctive ride that is immediately seen as his bike.

I had planned to put together a get together this season but my injury put most of my summer plans on hold. So on to next year planning...

I want to find out your level of interest in a get together/picnic next year. Likely timing would be late July or early August (I am planning to ride next year's IBR and want to make sure I have time to plan after I get home). Location TBD, but likely to be west of the Cascades for a little more reasonable temperature. I would expect to ask for a small contribution to support food and drinks.

Give me a thumbs up if interested, and thumbs down if you don't usually participate in these types of things.

We have a good group of scouts out scouring possible locations for next year. I am planning to get out myself, maybe in my truck if the foot healing isn't going as well as I hope it will continue to go. Should be a great year!

I am putting in the tee shirt order Monday morning. I'll send out a separate note for those of you who ordered and paid for a shirt.

Did you know there is a forum on the website? It gets a little use from time to time. I try to check it routinely to see if there are questions that can be answered for others to benefit.

PNWGT Forum

Pacific Northwest Grand Tour (PNWGT)

pnwgrandtour@gmail.com

<https://pnwgrandtour.com>

You are receiving this email from PNW Grand Tour because you are a registered rider in the 2022 PNW Grand Tour.

Unsubscribe • Update Email Address