Subject: PNW Grand Tour Update (02.06.26) - Locations Available

Locations Posted!

I have posted the 2026 planned locations on the website. It is a draft document and changes are likely - it happens every year. I have already made several changes since posting the original draft yesterday!

The version date will be easily seen on the document. The current draft is 02.06.26. My caution to you is this - make sure you check the website as April 1st approaches to make sure you have the most recent version! Locations can change (not likely) and sample images can change (already happened). You are responsible for having the most recent version available.

The document is located on the Downloads page (linked below) under the “Rider Resources” menu. You can also access an interactive map, download a zip file of sample images and access a folder with a gpx file on the Download page.

Registration Open

A reminder - registration is open! If you want to order a tee shirt or retain your number from previous years, register before the end of February. I am not sure there will be an additional tee shirt order this year. If you register after the end of February, your number will be something different and tee shirt orders will not be available.
